Before TrueClicks, we used a lot of different scripts, rules, and custom-made dashboards to monitor all the accounts. Just implementing those scripts and rules on each account is very time consuming.

I wanted an overview, in one place, to tell me more about the shape of the accounts. How well are they performing? Are there any opportunities for improvement?

Petter Zachrisson
Head of SEM, Resolution (Omnicom Media Group)

Clients would ask other agencies and consultants to audit our work to make sure we were actually providing a good service. They’d find annoying things like url and extension disapprovals, or not having negative keyword lists updated.

Now, we feel bulletproof to these audits because TrueClicks allows us to be on top of things more than we were before.

In October 2021, Ghaith decided to dive into the world of Salesforce. He joined a 6-week course at RefugeeForce (Blue Road Academy) through a friend who took this course in 2019. RefugeeForce's mission is to create a more diverse and inclusive work environment where opportunities are equal for all. They support newcomers to launch their careers within the Salesforce ecosystem. Merkle also sees the talent of this group and the importance of giving everyone equal opportunities. This is why Merkle is a Recruitment Partner of RefugeeForce and came in touch with Ghaith. How he experienced his first months at Merkle and how he is doing now? Read his story below.

The first impression

On June 28, 2022, I first came into contact with Merkle employees. I attended a Salesforce live event where I spoke with several employees from Merkle's team. Our main objective was to find out about the company and get to know some of the employees. I was surprised to see how inclusive and diverse the team was. The employees were friendly and approachable. They took the time to listen to me and answer my questions. I felt welcome from the moment I entered the office. They made me feel like a part of the team. I was excited to see how the company would treat me in the future.

Proving it with Stories

Content that tells stories of how we deliver on our promises and meet expectations
‘The number of orders is still rising every year’.

The family business in Overijssel is doing well. “I don’t share exact figures,” says Gerjan. “But we are indeed doing well. We process many hundreds of orders every day and this number is still on the rise. Every year we close with a record turnover. This year we expect to grow again by 25 to 30 percent.”

Gerjan thinks that the great success of Travelbags is partly due to the innovative character of the company. “If you want to grow, you have to continue to develop,” he says. That’s why almost every euro earned is immediately put back into the company. “We try to distinguish ourselves by following the trends in the market and translating them to the needs of our customers. For example, we have recently further optimised our mobile site for an even better user experience.”

Industry
Customer Generation Marketing for Tech Companies

Directive is a performance marketing agency specializing in working with SaaS companies. Directive helps software companies exceed their pipeline and revenue goals through organic search, paid media, performance creative, and marketing operations.

Tim Davidson is a paid media account director at Directive. He has over 5 years of experience in PPC marketing. At Directive, he oversees paid media for Enterprise clients and internal marketing.

Challenge

Finding a way to deliver faster upfront results for new clients

As a growth marketing agency, Directive only works with SaaS companies. Their clients need to see results fast: they're usually scaling quickly, and their investors need to see results, especially for pay-per-click (PPC) paid media campaigns.
How Directive is Using TrueClicks to Save 50+ Manager Hours Each Month

Solution

An automatic analysis and recommendation tool for paid search

When Directive found TrueClicks, they realized the tool was the solution they needed for all of their clients’ PPC campaigns.

Now, when Directive signs a new client, they can connect their Google Ads account to TrueClicks and immediately get a complete report of the status of all of their campaigns. TrueClicks also provides a prioritized list of recommended improvements, so Directive can take care of the most high-priority items first—and achieve immediate results for their clients.

TrueClicks isn't only useful for new client accounts—Directive uses it for ongoing account monitoring on all of their accounts as well.

Strategists use TrueClick checklist to optimize their accounts daily, and managers can check any account's health at a glance thanks to TrueClick's scoring and email

GDA VS. DV360: WHICH PLATFORM SUITS YOUR ORGANIZATION BEST?

In order to determine the right system for your organization, it is very important that you know the possibilities of Google's procurement platforms – and also the differences between them. Google Display Ads (GDA) is Google's advertising network. Display & Video 360 (DV360) allows you to buy inventory directly from publishers or ad exchanges outside of Google's ad network using Google’s Demand Side Platform (DSP). Here we discuss the differences between the two systems based on their main components. In addition, we advise in which situations these systems come into their own.

Is Performance Max for e-commerce companies only?

The fact that Performance Max is replacing Smart Shopping doesn't mean that PMax is only a campaign type for e-commerce players. Because you advertise with Performance Max on all (possible) Google channels, that makes this campaign type relevant for all types of advertisers. Many experts expect Performance Max to eventually replace other campaign types in Google Ads too.
