Hi,

I'M GONNA TAKE YOU FROM THIS:

I hope you're doing well. I am reaching out on behalf of s, a content creation agency specialising in the super yacht industry. I came across your website and was impressed by the informative and engaging articles you provide.

We would love to collaborate with you by contributing high-quality, SEO-optimised articles to your website. Our team of expert writers is well-versed in the super yacht industry and can provide valuable content tailored to your audience's interests.

In exchange, we kindly request that you consider including a backlink to our website within the articles we provide. This would benefit both our SEO efforts and provide additional resources for your readers.

To showcase our writing style and expertise, we would be happy to provide a sample article. This will give you an idea of the value we can bring to your website and audience.

TO THIS

As Steve Jobs once said, 'The most powerful person in the world is the storyteller. The storyteller sets the vision, values, and agenda of an entire generation that is to come.'

Stories are our fuel, our drive, our connection. How did you enjoy the narrative goodies I picked for you?

If you have other topics planned out, I'd be happy to pitch around those.

And if you prefer other types of collaboration, I'm all ears :)

On the edge of my seat,

SO YOU GET FROM THIS:

nick keenan

@uplink

I think 7 ignored emails for a backlink should be a sign that NO, I don't want to "collab" by giving you a link.

This spammy link building bullshit needs to end. It makes me hate the brand behind it.

TO THIS:

I like the 5 must try  - standing ovation from me

AND THIS:

Okay, I love everything about this email, thank you so much for reaching out! Using the Muppets to catch and keep someone's attention? Pure genius.

AND THIS AND THIS AND THIS

Thank you for your lively and entertaining message! It's great to see such enthusiasm.

Well written. I tried to tune off a few times, delete the email (I get 10s of sales pitches per day) but I still wanted to keep reading.

You have really got me with this cat thing. I get hundreds of proposals like yours and this is the first one I have ever answered.

Thanks for reaching out. BTW, this is great 'To bid adieu to my artsy fartsy messages'

PS:

I like receiving outreach emails like this, and am desperately convincing management to allow us to write copy the same way!

This is almost too witty to comprehend, ALMOST.

Efficient Sound Editing piece sounds interesting - is that something you've written already?

I don't know when I last responded to any of the cold sales emails I get daily, but your approach definitely aligns with my own view on how to sell. I like your stories and style.

Thanks for reaching out. A sublime Monday to you, writer of elegance! I swear those emails caught me off-guard!

I respect the... unique approach to your pitches and I most definitely concur with the quirkiness of such ramblings.

A group of five robots are playing basketball in a destroyed city. The scene is filled with fire, smoke, and debris. A basketball hoop is visible in the background. The robots are made of dark, metallic parts with some glowing red lights. One robot in the center is holding a basketball. The overall atmosphere is chaotic and dystopian.

create some funny, short showerthoughts about hair, in the style of Allie Brosh create some bizarre showerthoughts, in the style of Samantha Irby, around hair

SPLIT ENDS + LIFE

Hyperbole with a Hint of Brosh:

Hair: the eternal struggle between expressing yourself and looking like you didn't get electrocuted by a Christmas tree.

- Split ends: a constant reminder that even the best things in life eventually fray and unravel into chaos.
- Bedhead: proof that sleep is the ultimate anti-stylist, leaving you looking like a possessed haystack.
- Hair dye: a gateway drug to the dark side of impulsive decisions and questionable bathroom lighting.
- Dry shampoo: the glitter bomb of the haircare world, masking problems with sparkly distraction.

HAIR + POLITICS

Samantha Irby-esque Bizarre Hair Showerthoughts:

1. My hair sheds more consistently than a politician dodging questions. Is it plotting a follicular coup d'état?
2. Ever wonder if your split ends gossip about you behind your back? Like, "Brenda's been cutting hers again, the hussy!"
3. If hair is dead, why is my lemon army staging a revolt on my scalp? Consider your hair as a rebellious army needing maintenance. Except instead of a general, it's existential dread. Does anyone else ever just talk to their hair for split ends and bad dye jobs? Don't judge, Brenda judges.
6. Is it weird to name your individual hairs? Asking for a friend named Brenda who lives right at the top of her hair. It likes to rebel by curling.

Subject Chilling 🧊 News: A Cool 😎 Perspective on Health

Hi {{CNT_FIRST_NAME}},

Ever tried jumping into a freezing cold lake to wake yourself up? Me neither, but it looks like we might be missing out. 🧊👉

I've got an article idea that might send shivers down your spine. It's all about how cold exposure can boost focus, mood, and overall health. Think of it as a polar bear plunge for the mind. Brain freeze has never been so productive! 🧊🧠

This piece will provide your readers with a fresh perspective on wellness and self-care. I've got the facts, expert insights, and some icy puns to keep things breezy.

Interested? Just don't leave me in the cold! 🧊

Thanks for considering!
